1. Chlorophyll a (Chl a) and Chlorophyll b (Chl b) are the two main photosynthetic pigments in green plants. They are responsible for capturing light energy and converting it into chemical energy through the process of photosynthesis. Chl a is the primary pigment, while Chl b acts as an accessory pigment, transferring energy to Chl a.

1. The first part of the paper is devoted to a discussion of the general principles of the theory of the structure of the atomic nucleus. It is shown that the structure of the nucleus is determined by the interaction of the nucleons, which are the particles that make up the nucleus. The interaction is described by the strong interaction, which is the most powerful of the four fundamental interactions. The strong interaction is responsible for the binding of the nucleons together in the nucleus. The structure of the nucleus is also determined by the Pauli exclusion principle, which states that no two nucleons can occupy the same quantum state. This principle leads to the formation of the nuclear shell structure, which is the basis of the shell model of the nucleus. The shell model is a simple model of the nucleus that takes into account the strong interaction and the Pauli exclusion principle. It is a good approximation of the nucleus for many purposes, but it is not a complete theory. The complete theory of the nucleus is still a subject of active research.
